

I Guess

CHORUS

I guess I'll have to fall in love with you
I guess I'll tell the preacher man "I Do"
I guess I wake each mornin' to your lovin' eyes so blue
Yeah I guess I'll have to fall in love with you.

VERSE 1

You came without a warnin', your world crashed right into mine
A girl like you was not part of my plan
My lifestyle with no ties was just fine thank you very much
But your blue eyes would reel in any man

VERSE 2

Before I knew what hit me I was callin' you each day
At night I'd dream about you in my sleep
I figured just to dip my toe would not do me no harm
But now I find that I'm in way too deep.

CHORUS

So I guess I'll have to fall in love with you
I guess I'll tell the preacher man "I Do"
I guess I'll wake each mornin' to your lovin' eyes so blue
Yeah I guess I'll have to fall in love with you.

BRIDGE

This man who said he'd never wed
Now cannot wait to see
You walkin' down the aisle with that smile
I see my bride stand by my side
I'm where I wanna be
A year ago I would have run a mile

VERSE 3

And so a twist of fate now finds us standing hand in hand
No woman's ever made feel like this
I guess that I will now commit those two small words to you
And lift your veil and seal it with a kiss.

CHORUS

So I guess I had to fall in love with you

That's why I told the preacher man "I Do"

I guess I'll wake each mornin' to your lovin' eyes so blue

Yeah I guess I had to fall in love with you.

Yeah ... I guess I had to fall in love with you.
